LA CUCINA DEL SOLE

A menu inspired by the sun and the sea of Sardinia, made expressly for DolceVita by Chef Salvatore Di Meo. The next best thing to being in his restaurant in Costa Smeralda.

"I must confess, if I don't hold myself back, I end up adding fresh tomatoes everywhere; chopped for a light grill, diced for a colourful dressing, pureed as a lava flow."

This is the introduction Salvatore Di Meo chooses to present his wonderfully mediterranean cuisine on his website www.lacucinadelsole.com, as colorful and sunny as the plates that come out of the kitchen of his restaurant in the heart of glamorous Costa Smeralda coast in Sardinia.

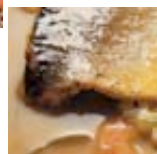

Salvatore's curriculum is quite glamorous itself: years of teaching cooking classes at the French Cultural Institute of Naples, promoter of international gastronomic events, Head Chef of the 1994 G7 meeting held in Naples, Director of restaurant and catering activities at prestigious Yacht Club Costa Smeralda, renowned writer of cookbooks and consultant to cuisine magazines and catering businesses.

The recipes he chose for DolceVita are a sample of his taste for refined contrasts and technically perfect preparations. Here's how he comments them:

Summer scents

"For its colours, scent and taste this plate can be regarded as a traditional representation of Mediterranean cuisine"

Saffron sea bass filets

"The firm taste of the wild sea bass contrasting with the ferrous saffron taste creates an unforgettable culinary experience"

Almond sfogliata

"The contrast between the warmth, sweetness of the "sfogliata" and the sour coolness of the berries create a stimulating appeal to the palate"
